

The Deimos is the name of a world with plenty of unexpected events.

There are three distinct factions in this world; each hates the others but needs others to survive. Also, there are some clans and small towns in the world and some odd ones.

Northern Empire

Western Empire

Trading Empire

The first faction to be discussed here is known as the Northern Empire; the faction is known for the massive amount of wheat and other food production. Also, its king is known as a fair king, which rules his realm with the help of a council. The council of the wisest. The council consists of the wisest people in that country. Northern Empire's military force is powerful. Their main source of income is from the tax, which is collected from people and farmers. And the tariff they got from traders of the trading empire!

The second one is The trading faction; here, everything is gold, and the people with more gold are more powerful; this faction's primary source of income is the tariff from plenty of traders. The traders travel anywhere to trade; even they go to the outer world, the place outside of Deimos is called the outer world. The trading faction used to be the camp of some trading groups. The trading faction has two kings, who are head of the two trading groups with the most profit; any other trading groups that gain more profit than any of them should replace them. Each trading faction has its army. However, the two kings have two other armies that are funded by the tariffs. In this way, the power is not only for a trading group, and none of them can seize all the power of itself.

The last faction is the Western Empire, a devil and cruel king with powerful and skillful royal guards. Everything is under the control of the king and his servants. The faction has a massive army, and everyone fears the Western Empire troops. This faction's main income source is tax from people and gold mines in the nearby mountains. The faction needs a lot of sources; because rarely wheat or any other food could be produced in areas near this faction.

The Easter Empire and the Western empire have been enemies for many years. The Northern empire banned any trading with the western empire. The western empire falls after a few months without exporting food. The main reason the Northern empire banned trading with the Western empire was that they did not want their food to be used to feed their enemies.

The story of the trading faction started from this point. When many years ago Northern empire banned all trading with the Western empire; this banning caused severe consequences for both factions. And they both ask trading groups for help. The Western empire asks for food in exchange for gold, and the Northern empire starts selling their food to traders. The Northern empire told traders that these foods must not be sold to the western empire. However, the trading groups sell those foods to the outer world traders in exchange for exporting food from their trading partners to the Western empire. In this way, the trading groups profit from both the Western and Northern empires. The Northern empire knows that outer world traders do not trade with the Western empire because they do not want to lose their market. As a result, the faction orders its spies to search for the trading groups that trade with the Western empire. But the trading faction hides all of its footprints with the help of a chain of outer world trading groups. After a while, the Northern empire stopped searching for the trading group that sold food to the Western empire; the trading groups became a strong empire.

The main character of the game name is Thomas. He is a brave young man whose parents are killed by the royal guard of the Western country, and he manages to escape the country. Now he has just entered the western empire capital city. He is so hungry, so his first objective is to find some food to eat. Also, he is looking for some other people who seek revenge from the evil western empire. During his adventure in the Northern empire, he realizes that he is not alone and can find some people with the same goal.

The following is a map of the Deimos:

The young man has just entered the capital city of the Northern empire; He realizes that the capital city is way different than the capital city of the Western empire; More crowded, people are happier, soldiers seem kind here, and No beggars. Moreover, something more interesting is that he sees a lot of soldiers guarding two people, "Oh my God are they the king and queen of the Northern empire" he says to himself. And again, he says: "What should I do? Should I go and ask him for some help? I am good with the sword. They might give me a position in their army. Maybe not; at the end of the day, I am a stranger from enemy land; maybe first I should find some food and work for myself to make a living". The following pictures are main characters of the game.

During his exploration, he faces a girl name Anahita. The girl attracts him. Thus, he moves closer and asks her name

Anahita: I am Anahita, the youngest girl of the well-known trading group

Thomas: cool, you must know a lot of things. Do you know anyone from the Western empire?

Anahita: yes, a soldier in the town watch army is from there, but he hates the Western empire.

Thomas: Oh! that is cool. I hate them too. Can you bring me to him?

Anahita: Yes, sure.

Anahita: Hey Ajax, this man is looking for western empire citizens

Ajax: what do you want, stranger! I hate the western empire; I hope you do not have any affiliation with the western empire royal family

Anahita: No he hates them too.

Thomas: I am Thomas; the western empire killed my parents. I hate them. I am here to find some companion to create a group to fight with them

Ajax: ha ha ha fighting with a kingdom, you must whether really be mad or stupid!

Thomas: let me explain; from fighting, I did not mean fight with them face to face; I want to create a group. A trading group to fight with them and damage them in any way I can. For example, send some assassins to kill their officials or loot their caravans!

Ajax: Ok, I am in. It sounds stupid still, but I want to try my luck first. I should get quit my job.

Thomas: Anahita Do you want to join us?

Anahita: I do not know you yet?

Thomas: You are right I can prove myself to you.

Anahita: hmm, I know a witch, A good witch in this city. If you can convince him that you are serious, he uses his magical skills to see your future. If it is bright, I will cooperate either. Also, I ask my father to give me a caravan to start making money. How much money do You have, Thomas?

Thomas: I have 50 Gold Coin! take a look at them

Anahita: wow you can buy half of the goods we want to have in our caravan. we could share the profit in this way.

Hey Jack grab some good fighters I know you know many good fighters in this city. Tell them they will be paid well!. Thomas come with me we should go the witch

Thomas: Hmm should I really trust them everything is settling too soon. Maybe I should bring an excuse and leave them for now.

Thomas: well Before that I should do some other businesses in the city I will find you two again ; farewell for now.

Anahita: wow you can buy half of the goods we want to have in our caravan. we could share the profit in this way.
Hey Jack grab some good fighters I know you know many fighters in this city. Tell them they will be paid well!. Thomas come with me we should go the witch

The Witch: Hey Anahita long time no see!

Anahita: Yes I was busy with some stuff.
I am here to get your help;
This man wants to fight with the western empire.
Can you look at his future
If it was positive I want to help him.

The Witch tells some magical words and grabs Thomas' hands. And after a short time says. Wow, This man is going to change the World!! At least the Deimos. I will help you, Thomas; count on my help at any time.
Anahita knows where you can find me.

Thomas: Thanks him happily. and ask Anahita:
"are you in?"

Anahita and Ajax get angry with him. They do not cooperate with him anymore.
Thomas could not find anyone else to work with him on his goal. After a while, he tired of his goal and started an everyday life as a Tanner. He dies because of aging.
Game Over!

Anahita: Yes, I will go toward my father's mansion. And will be at the southern gate with the goods. Give me your money! and wait for me at the southern gate.

Thomas: give his money. Oh, I trust you because I know you are trustworthy! I will see you at the gate. One question where are we going?

Anahita: we are going to the outer World for trading and finding some skillful people.

Thomas: Great more fighters!

Anahita: No fighter is not. We are looking for it; good merchants and other intelligent people are what we must seek right now! Then we build our trading empire!

Thomas: I am lucky to find such an intelligence woman.

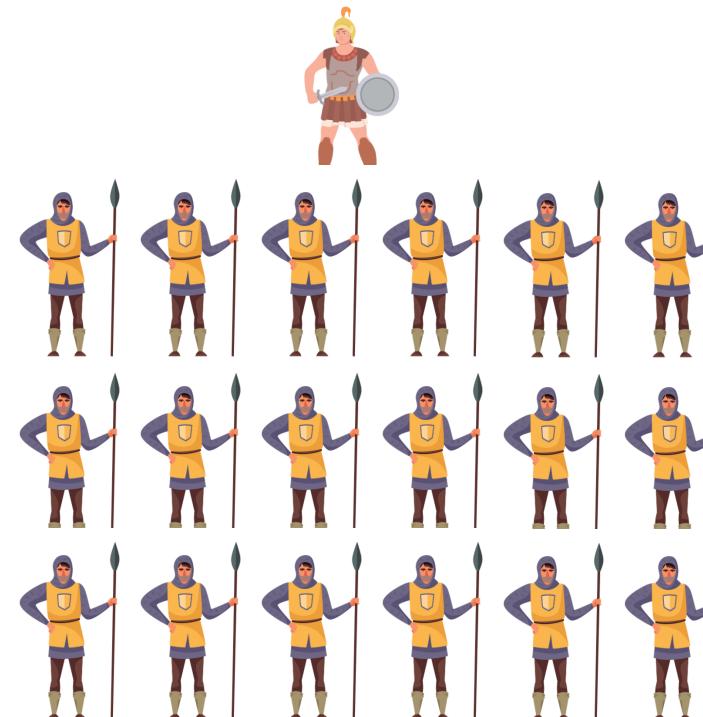

After a while, Thomas, Jack, and Anahita meet at the gate, and their journey to the outer world starts.

Thomas: Well, how can I trust you? How can I know all of these are real?

Anahita: Responses, you must be more than happy with my suggestion. Everyone knows me in this city. My family is the most trustworthy in the city. You will regret it. She leaves there and asks her father to use his power to kick Thomas out of the city. After a day, town watches surround the tavern where Thomas stays in it. Their commander and some of the soldiers approach his room.

Thomas: Do not kill me please. I am surrender!

Town watches arrest him and kick him out of the city. Game Over!

Thomas: Hey please I can give you some Gold

Town Watch commander: What !! You want to buy my loyalty with coins. He draws his sword and starts attacking him with all his soldiers. Thomas kills some of them, but he is killed, and the commander grabs all the coins! Game Over!

Thomas ask for a room and some food for couple days from the tavern keeper and gives his coin to her.

Tomorrow, a kid bring a letter and a flower for Thomas. Inside the letter was only few words: "come out of the tavern now, and follow the kid. The one you have saved"

Ra was the person who wrote the letter. the kid bring Thomas there. It seems The lady escaped her mansion again, Thomas: My lady why are you escaping again it could be dangerous.

Ra: Life in the mansion is boring, and I'm not too fond of it. Two of my guards are with me, But they are undercover. Nothing will happen, don't worry. Now tell me who are you?

Thomas: I am a western empire citizen, who his family has been killed by the royal guards of the western empire. I hate them and I am here to gather some companion, create a trading group to become more powerful and then I can start to fight and damage the Western empire

Thomas: I am traveller from the town nearby of the trading faction capital city. I am here to find a job

Ra: Oh, that sounds brave. My life is boring, and you are a brave and handsome man. I will be glad to help you, and I can help you. I manage you to lead one of the royal trading caravans; the caravan will go to the outer World. But it has one condition. You must help me to sneak out of the city because my father does not let me go out of the city.

Ra: I can help you to find a job. Do you want to become a member of the royal guard?

Thomas: Yes my lady it will be very good for me.

Ra: I will send you a signed and sealed letter tomorrow, bring it to the royal guards camp, and show it to the officer in front of the camp's gate. First they will train you for a while and afterwards, you become one of the guards.

Also, please accept these coins (a small bag of coins) for what you did yesterday.

Thomas: My lady, it is dangerous; how can I do such a thing? Your family will kill me. I can not do it sorry.

Thomas: My lady, it is dangerous. However, I am going to help you. You are helping me, and I am helping you.

Thomas refuses to accept those golds despite Ra's insistence.

Thomas accepts those gold coins; 20 shiny gold coins.

Ra: so you are a honored man, we will meet again.
